- BACKGROUND & EXPERIENCE

Mark J. Furletti focuses on federal and state consumer lending and payments laws, including those that apply to payment cards, vehicle-secured loans, lines of credit, unsecured loans, and deposit products. He counsels providers of consumer financial services, including banks, on regulatory compliance matters and has successfully represented such providers in class action litigation and government supervisory and enforcement matters. He also regularly counsels purchasers of merchant receivables, companies that specialize in online small business lending and companies that interact with their customers electronically or that set up recurring billing arrangements with their customers.

Mr. Furletti regularly provides guidance on electronic payments and payment network rules, electronic contracting and mobile commerce, online banking, retail installment sales, preparing for examinations by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), responding to CFPB supervisory requests (including so-called PARR letters), Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code, lease-purchase transactions and consumer protection laws, such as the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA), Truth in Lending Act (TILA), Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA), Electronic Funds Transfer Act (EFTA), Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-SIGN), and UDAAP statutes prohibiting unfair, deceptive, and abusive acts and practices.

Mr. Furletti serves as chair of the Firm's TCPA Task Force and as co-chair of the Electronic Financial Services Subcommittee of the American Bar Association's Consumer Financial Services Committee.

Most recently, Mr. Furletti has worked on the following matters:

- Assisted multiple professional sports teams with drafting season ticketholder agreements, associated payment authorizations and associated TILA disclosures
- Led regulatory due diligence on multiple companies engaged in purchasing the future receivables of merchants and making loans to small businesses
- Counseled clients on text message marketing programs where prior express written consent is obtained via text message
- Advised clients on bank model lending programs and the application of state laws to such programs and drafted consumer agreements for such programs
- Drafted third party service provider agreements for clients subject to CFPB supervisory jurisdiction, including agreements with lead generators, marketing partners supervisory jurisdiction, including agreements with lead generators, marketing partners and debt buyers

- Reviewed underwriting models and lending practices for fair lending risk and oversaw fair lending testing programs for clients
- Counseled small entity representatives on small business review panels organized by the CFPB

Previously, Mr. Furletti worked for the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia for several years, during which he authored more than 15 articles on consumer credit and payments topics and advised those crafting regulations on consumer credit and consumer payments issues. One article, "The Debate Over the National Bank Act and the Preemption of State Efforts to Regulate Credit Cards," 77 Temple L. Rev. 425 (2004), was named best student article by the American College of Consumer Financial Services Lawyers. Other published articles include "Credit Card Pricing Developments and Their Disclosure," 13 J. of Fin. Transformation 5 (2005).

Mr. Furletti also has worked as a business consultant, assisting the nation's largest retail banks and credit card lenders with customer strategy issues, and as a manager at one of the largest credit card issuers in the United States.
